

ASA ALMA AND JEROME
WALL BETHERS

Frank Clapp
John Oaks Ace Betthers

Asa Alma Betthers was born in Daniel on October 8, 1890, the fourteenth child of William S. and Phebe McM. Betthers. He married Jerome Wall on April 20, 1925, the marriage being solemnized later in the Salt Lake Temple. She was born on September 15, 1893, at Wallsburg, Utah, daughter of Abraham and Amelia Rogers Wall. Both are living.

Being the youngest child, Asa Alma was a favorite among the other members of the family. He was a good-looking boy and grew up to be a very quiet, retiring young man.

He grew up under the fine influence of his parents, attending school in the schoolhouse on his father's land, with Maria Christensen as his teacher. He also attended Church functions there. He was baptized July 23, 1899.

His mother died when he was 19, so he went to Park City, where he worked in the mills until his brother Taylor died. He then returned home and remained on the ranch. Later he acquired the ranch at the head of Daniels Canyon, where he has a roadhouse and store where travelers and campers buy groceries, gas and oil.

He and his wife have two girls. They belong to the Daniel Ward and have been to the Temple.

They have a nice home in Heber, where Jerome and the girls spend the winter while Ace still cares for his business at the Daniel Canyon Summit.
